AND BARBUDA

- 1.5 A typical financial crisis has no single cause, but is usually the outcome of many factors working in parallel. These include allowing banks to be set up by persons with little expertise and even less capital, weak supervision, inadequate rules governing accounting and bankruptcy, dire economic management, weak underwriting standards and macroeconomic volatility.
- 1.6 Banking legislation does not deal with macroeconomic policies that are tied to a great extent with fiscal policies of government. It is important that the Central Bank is given adequate powers to ensure that banks and other non-bank financial institutions licensed under the Banking Act are fundamentally very sound and can withstand adverse trends even in a fragile economy.
- 1.7 The proposed amendments to the Banking Act seek to address major deficiencies in legislation and to tighten the supervisory and regulatory framework. The proposals establish certain prudential requirements that must be adhered to by all financial institutions and gives the Minister of Finance the power to make regulations to effect the provisions of the Banking Act, upon the recommendation of the ECCB.
- 1.8 Due to these several proposed amendments, it is recommended that the current Uniform Banking Act be repealed and a new Act, incorporating the amendments, be enacted. The new Act will have more comprehensive provisions to regulate banks.
- 1.9 The amendments presented benefited from a first draft by an IMF legal consultant, various discussions by committees within the Central Bank, and the Financial Secretaries. The draft amendments were circulated to commercial banks for their comments and the concerns raised were discussed at the Banking Committee Meeting. The Banking Committee endorsed the recommendations to address the major shortcomings identified in the Act.

B. PROPOSALS

2. Arrangement of Sections

- 2.1 Section 11, Rights of Central Bank to examine books of banking business without a valid licence has been incorporated under Section 3, Requirement for licence.
- 2.2 Section 16, Restriction on certain activities of licensed financial institutions, was renamed Restriction on certain activities of licensed financial institutions and affiliates to capture the activities of affiliates of financial institutions which are now being restricted to enable effective supervision of the licensed entity.

2.3 Section 18, Credit Institution, has been revised to Credit Institution, Class of Credit Institution and Financial Group to incorporate entities within the same structure as the licensed banking institution.

2.4 Section 21, Disclosure and access to books and records by Central Bank examiner for Inspection, was reworded to replace the word Inspection with Examination to avoid misinterpretation arising from the use of both terms in the Act. The Bank Supervision Department refers to the exercise as an examination and not an inspection.

2.5 Section 33A, Compounding of Offences, was renumbered as Section 35 and a new section, Section 36 – Prudential Guidelines was added. Accordingly, the former Section 34, Voluntary Liquidation, becomes Section 37 and every Section thereafter falls back in numbering accordingly.

2.6 An additional Schedule has been added to the Act as Schedule II, to define business of a financial nature. Schedule I remains with amendments.

3. Interpretation Section 2

3.1 The term affiliate was added to define entities within and outside of a conglomerate structure whose activities would be subject to review by the Supervisory Authority under consolidated supervision.

3.2 For clarity, the word auditor was amended to read external auditor to differentiate between an internal auditor of the financial institution.

3.3 The term borrower group was introduced to capture the linkage between individual borrowers and their related interests when transacting credit facilities with financial institutions.

3.4 The term business of a financial nature was introduced to give clarity to the type of businesses in which institutions that may comprise a financial group are engaged and hence covered under the provisions of this Act. The institutions to be included hereunder are set out in Schedule II of the Act.

3.5 The terms connected or related were included to enable the ECCB to determine the relationship between two individual borrowers, either an individual or a company, for the purposes of establishing concentration in the lending activities of financial institutions.

3.6 The term control was included to enable the Central Bank, the Council or the Minister in determining 3.3 and 3.5 above.

- 3.7 The definition of the term Credit Institution was expanded to capture all aspects of credit granting.
- 3.8 The term Financial Group was included to assist in the identification of entities that conduct business of a financial nature and are related to the licensed financial institution.
- 3.9 The term Holding Company was introduced to capture new and complex structures that may be brought under the Act and has a common meaning as laid out in the various Companies Acts in the member territories.
- 3.10 The term significant shareholder was introduced to differentiate ownership of shares by an individual or entity that warrant approval of the Central Bank from ownership of sums that would only require periodic and routine reporting to the Central Bank.
- 3.11 The term subsidiary was introduced to capture entities owned in whole or in part by the licensed banking institution, holding company or financial institution. It has a common meaning as laid out in the various Companies Acts in the member territories.
- 3.12 The definition of the term unsecured was broken down into two parts for clarity. However the content of the definition remains unchanged.

PART I - LICENCES

4. Requirements for Licence Section 3

Rationale for Amendment

- 4.1 Provisional licences have been granted, in the past, to institutions suspected of carrying on banking business, but whose operations grandfathered the Banking Act. The word provisional means temporary and such licences were, in the past, granted to institutions pending an on-site examination by the ECCB. Such examinations would either conclude that a licence be granted or that the financial condition of the entity was such that it not be allowed to continue to operate.
- 4.2 It has been determined that this function would be better facilitated by making provision for the Central Bank to conduct an examination of any entity suspected of conducting banking business, and to take the necessary action to licence or remove the entity from the system. As illustrated below in paragraph 5 of this Explanatory Memorandum, the subsequent Section 4 provides for this, including and expanding the provisions of the former Section 11. Accordingly, an amendment is necessary under Section 3 to reflect the removal of Provisional Licences.

Proposal for Amendment

- 4.3 To amend subsection (2) to remove bank and replace it with financial institution to capture non-banks that have been issued a licence.
- 4.4 To remove subsections 4, 5 and 6 of the old Act to remove the requirement for a provisional licence.
- 4.5 To renumber Section 3(7) which requires all financial institutions to be licensed within the jurisdiction as Section 4(4)
- 4.6 To renumber subsection (8) as section (5) with modifications to separate the fines and terms of imprisonment for breach of subsections 1 and 4 that are applied to the institution from those applicable to the directors and managers.

5. Examination of books of person carrying on banking business without a licence.

Section 4

Rationale for Amendment

- 5.1 The repositioning of this section was appropriate as it now directly follows the section prohibiting the carrying on of banking business without a licence. The purpose of the section is to ascertain whether the person is in fact carrying on banking business. The process will now be done through the Magistrate's Court, and, where necessary, entry to premises will be with the assistance of a police officer. This provision was framed in a similar manner as in the Financial Institutions Act of Jamaica to effect swift resolution to such unlawful practices.
- 5.2 Previously the Central Bank would have to apply to the High Court, after consultation with the Minister, for an order to examine the books. This was a lengthy process during which time the safety and soundness of the institution, the system as well depositors' funds were being further threatened. To effectively circumscribe the actions of such persons the Central Bank needs the authority to close down the unlicensed business if necessary. Accordingly, a provision is inserted to allow the Central Bank to recommend to the Minister that a receiver be appointed for the business.

Proposal for Amendment

- 5.3 To amend subsection (1) to remove the proceedings to the Magistrate's Court, allowing the Magistrate to issue a special warrant authorizing the Central Bank to enter an entity suspected of conducting banking business unlawfully and to collect such evidence as deemed necessary to substantiate its suspicions.
- 5.4 To insert a new subsection (3) to allow a police officer to use force to gain entry to the premises in respect of which the special warrant is granted.
- 5.5 To reposition the former Section 11(2) as Section 4(4)
- 5.6 To insert a new subsection (5) to empower the Central Bank to recommend to the Minister that the business be placed in receivership, in the event that, having exercised its rights under subsection (6), the Central Bank determines that a licence should not be granted.
- 5.7 To transpose subsections (3) and (4) of the former section 11 as a new subsections (6) and (7) of Section 4 and for clarity the words, "where the Minister has reasonable cause to suspect that the conditions in subsection (1) (a) and (b) exist," were added to subsection 7.

6. Licences – Application for Licence Section 5

Rationale for Amendment

- 6.1 Where an applicant has duly submitted an application for a banking licence, the licensing authority should have established criteria for assessing the proposal. To lend some degree of transparency to the process and to ensure that only high integrity applicants are licensed, the criteria for approval should be outlined in the legislation.
- 6.2 Banks, unlike other companies are opaque. The nature of their operations is such that they garner public funds, which are then invested into assets of varying risk. The need to meet shareholder expectations of maximum rewards invites moral hazard on the part of managers. The lack of public disclosure requirements to invoke market discipline thickens the veil over banking operations. Accordingly, the criteria for entry and the scope under which ongoing monitoring would be effected requires tightening.
- 6.3 The proposed amendments address the administrative procedures for the processing of applications for licenses by the licensing authority, incorporating the requirements of Basle Core Principle 3.

Proposal for Amendment

- 6.5.1 To retain subsection (2), paragraphs (a), (b) and (c), without amendment.
- 6.5.2 To amend paragraph (d) to incorporate a more thorough assessment of the directors and management of the proposed banking institution including a fit and proper test as outlined in Schedule I of the Act. This is similar to the requirements the Trinidad and Tobago and Jamaica Banking Act.
- 6.5.3 To insert the word the before capital structure in paragraph (e).
- 6.5.4 To retain paragraphs (f) and (g) without amendment.
- 6.5.5 To insert a new paragraph (h) to provide for the assessment of any significant shareholders as defined under the Act.
- 6.5.6 To insert a new paragraph (i) which provides for the assessment of the ownership structure in line with Basle Core Principle 4.
- 6.5.7 To insert a new paragraph (j), which provides for the assessment of the source of capital funds in line with the Basle Core Principle 6.
- 6.5.8 To insert a new paragraph (k), which provides for the assessment of the legal and managerial structure in line with the Basle Core Principle 4.
- 6.6 To insert a new subsection (3) to address issues relating to a foreign bank applying for a license to establish branch operations in the ECCB Member States. The subsection requires certification from the home country supervisor that its approval has been granted and documented evidence to be presented to the Central Bank to assess the quality of supervision.
- 6.7 To renumber the existing Section 4(3) as subsection (4) of this section.
- 6.9 To retain subsection (5) of the former Section 4 and renumber it as subsection (6) of this section.
- 6.10 To retain subsection (6) of the former Section 4 and renumber it as subsection (7) of this section, and pluralize the word Schedule to reflect the addition of a new Schedule to the Act.

7. Restricted words, names and practices Section 6

Rationale for Amendment

- 7.1 Basle Core Principle 2 requires that the permissible activities of institutions that are licensed and subject to supervision as banks must be clearly defined, and the use of the word “bank” in names should be controlled as far as possible. This is provided for in the existing Act, however, the provisions is strengthened by increasing the fine for contravention of this section, to discourage this practice and ensure that the banking public is not misled.

Proposal for Amendment

- 7.2 To amend subsection (2) of the former section 5 now section 6 (4) to increase the fine from one hundred thousand dollars to two hundred and fifty thousand dollars and the penalty from one thousand dollars to five thousand dollars for unlawful use of the words “bank”, “financial institutions”, or their derivatives in their name.
- 7.3 The former section 5 and 6 have been substantively merged to form the proposed section 6 and the former section 6 (2) is the proposed section 7.

8. Authorisation of location and approval of new business premises

Section 8

Rationale for Amendment

- 8.1 A component of the licensing process is the proposed location of the licensee. Accordingly, the approval of the location of the business is part of the overall application review and approval process and the establishment of new offices forms part of ongoing supervision of existing institutions. Overseas offices of local financial institutions can pose significant risks to the operations of the banks, if these offices are not managed or regulated prudently. Accordingly, the regulator should have the authority to require a local financial institution to close a branch where the quality of supervision of that branch is inadequate when compared to the risks the branch poses to the entire bank.

Proposal for Amendment

- 8.2 To divide subsection (2) of the former Section 7 into subsections (2) and (3).
- 8.3 To reposition the former subsection (3) of Section 7 as subsection (4)
- 8.4 To reposition the former sub-section (4) of Section 7, as subsection (5).

- 8.5 To insert a new Subsection (6) to enable the Minister on the recommendation of the Central Bank, to require a locally incorporated financial institution to close its place of business outside the ECCU Area or impose limitations on its activities if it is dissatisfied with the quality of host country supervision.

9. Voting Section 9

Rationale for Amendment

- 9.1 Core Principle 4 requires that banking supervisors have the authority to review and reject proposals to transfer significant ownership or controlling interests in existing banks to other parties. Significant ownership and controlling interest in banks may be transferred by transferring voting shares or by transferring assets. The Core Principles Methodology requires supervisory approval of a change in ownership or exercise of voting rights over a particular threshold. Sections 9(1) and 10(1)(a) of the Banking Act (formerly sections 8(1) and 9(1)(a) address ownership and the transfer of the whole or any substantial part of an institutions' assets or liabilities without the approval of the Minister.
- 9.2 Supervisory approval is required at the licensing stage for the individuals and or companies that are deemed to be significant shareholders in a financial institution to ensure that banking institutions are only owned by credible individuals or as in the case of companies, that the structure is not so complex as to inhibit effective supervision. The beneficial owner of the banking institution, as well as of each entity within the financial group, must be known to the supervisor. It becomes necessary therefore for supervisory approval to be sought on an ongoing basis, particularly with the advent of the ECSE, for the acquisition of significant holdings in a banking institution and for the transfer of a significant portion of the business to another entity or individual. The supervisory authority must at all times be able to make a determination as to the risk exposure and potential threat to the financial stability of the bank. To enable the Supervisor to make an informed assessment of the ownership of a financial institution, a three-tiered approach is being proposed in the amendments.
- 9.3 The first tier is supervisory authority to review and reject proposals to transfer ownership. This position is similar to that in Trinidad and Tobago and Jamaica. However, in these jurisdictions the Minister may require a local bank to transmit to the Minister information as to whether that shareholder holds any voting shares in the bank as beneficial owner or as trustee. The second is reporting of significant shareholdings to the supervisory authority, and the third is the ability of the supervisor to order divestment.

Proposal for Amendment

- 9.4 To reposition the existing Section 8(2) as subsection (2) of this Section and replace the words “so interrelated that they should be considered as a single unit” with the words connected or related as defined in Section 3, which is outline above.
- 9.5 To insert a new subsection (3) to require quarterly reporting by financial institutions of share ownership in excess of 5 per cent of the total voting rights of the institution to the Central Bank as part of the ongoing supervision.
- 9.6 To retain subsections (3) through (5) renumbering as subsections (4) through (6).
- 9.7 To amend sub-section 3 to give the Central Bank the authority to use its powers to prevent adverse consequences under Section 22 (discussed below) to require divestment of interests acquired in violation of this section.
- 9.8 To amend sub-section 4 to refer to the Central Bank only.
- 9.9 To renumber subsection (6) as subsection (7).

10. Revocation of licence and declaration of discontinuance of service.

Section 11

Rationale for Amendment

- 10.1 Core Principle 22 requires that banking supervisors have at their disposal adequate supervisory measures to bring about timely corrective action when banks fail to meet prudential requirements (such as minimum capital adequacy ratios), when there are regulatory violations, or where depositors are threatened in any other way. In extreme circumstances, this should include the ability to revoke the banking license or recommend its revocation. The proposed amendment expands the ground for revocation to include circumstances directly related to the prudent operation of the financial institution

Proposal for Amendment

- 10.2 To include in subsection (1) additional paragraphs to address specific conditions under which the Minister, acting on the recommendation of the Central Bank can revoke a licence. Paragraph (f) was included to address inadequacies in capital and liquidity; paragraph (g) to address ongoing fulfilment of the criteria applied at the licensing stage; and paragraph (h) to address instances where the licensed entity is taken over by another licensed entity rendering one of the licences unnecessary. Paragraph (h) would be applicable in cases such as FirstCaribbean International Bank Limited.

- 10.3 To amend sub-section (2) to explicitly provide that a licensee's statement of objections to a decision must be in writing.
- 10.4 To insert a new sub-section (3) to provide a statement of reasons for a decision to revoke.
- 10.5 To renumber the existing sub-sections (3), (4), and (5) as sub-sections (4), (5), and (6).

PART II — FINANCIAL REQUIREMENT AND LIMITATIONS

11. Minimum paid-up or assigned capital

Section 13

Rationale for Amendment

- 11.1 Core Principle 6 requires that banking supervisors set minimum capital adequacy requirements for banks that reflect the risks that the bank undertakes, and define the components of capital, bearing in mind its ability to absorb losses. For internationally active banks, these requirements must not be less than those established in the Basle Capital Accord. Sections 13, 14 and 15 of the Banking Act set minimum capital adequacy requirements, however the test of capital adequacy prescribed by the banking supervisors of the Basle Committee which have been accepted internationally is to relate own funds (described as Tier I capital and or Tier II Capital reserves) to total assets and off- balance sheet items, risk adjusted and to establish a minimum level that should be maintained.
- 11.2 To ensure that banks are sufficiently capitalized to protect against losses while utilizing criterion for assessment and benchmarks that are internationally recognized, the supervisory authority must be able to set the requisite criteria, determine how the criteria would be applied and make adjustments as trends in the financial world dictate. The supervisory authority must also be able to apply the capital adequacy criteria to conglomerates in a similar manner as is applied to the banking entity to ensure that the risk of contagion is adequately mitigated.

- 11.3 In addition to establishing criterion for assessment, the supervisory authority must be able to determine the components that qualify for inclusion in Tier I and Tier II capital and set the appropriate risk weightings, which in both instances must be equal to or exceed that required under the Basle Capital Accord.

Proposal for Amendment

- 11.4 To amend Section 13 to establish absolute minimum amounts for banks, credit institutions and other financial institutions and to allow for the Minister, on the recommendation of the Central Bank, to increase the minimum so established either through written notice sent to the main office of each financial institution or published in the local newspapers or the Gazette.
- 11.5 To amend subsection (1) paragraph (a) to fix the amount of five million dollars for all banks whether existing or newly licensed, and paragraph (b) to establish a minimum of one million dollars for credit institutions and other financial institutions.
- 11.6 To replace the old subsection (3) with a new subsection to create an offence for breach of sub-section 1

12. Maintenance of Reserve Fund Section 14

Proposal for Amendment

- 12.1 To reword subsection (3) which provides for the submission of an application for exemption by a foreign financial institution from this section of the Act, to explicitly state the procedure for exemption.

13. Adequacy of Capital Section 15

Proposal for Amendment

- 13.1 To reword the existing section 15, to allow the Minister, acting on the recommendation of the Central Bank to prescribe the percentage of risk adjusted assets that must be maintained by various classes of financial institutions, and the manner of computation of this ratio.
- 13.2 To replace subsection (2) with a new subsection allowing the Central Bank to determine capital adequacy ratios to be applied to all or any class of financial institution, and to expand the capital adequacy standards to include entities within a financial group (defined).
- 13.3 To replace the original subsection (3) with a new subsection that requires any financial institution that does not meet the capital adequacy requirements to submit a plan for addressing the deficiency, establishing a timeframe within which to have it addressed.

- 13.4 To replace subsection (4) with a new subsection to allow the Central Bank to take action against the institution in accordance with section 22 of the Banking Act for failure to satisfactorily comply with subsection (3)

14. Restriction on Certain activities of licensed Financial Institutions and Affiliates Amendment of Section 16 of the Act

14A. Lending Activities

Rationale for Amendment

- 15.1 Core Principle 9 requires that Banking Supervisors be satisfied that banks have management information systems that enable management to identify concentrations within the portfolio and Supervisors must set prudential limits to restrict bank exposures to single borrowers or groups of related borrowers.
- 15.2 In 1995 the Central Bank sought to augment the requirements under section 16 (1) of the BA, which refers to large credit exposures, by issuing Prudential Guidelines limiting large credit exposures to 25 per cent of Tier I Capital per individual borrower. Experience has shown that this is generally not adhered to. Empirical evidence demonstrates that bank failures generally stem from poor credit quality, which in turn creates liquidity problems.
- 15.3 In order to achieve effective supervision, Core Principle 10 requires that Banking Supervisors have in place requirements that banks lend to related companies and individuals on an arms-length basis that such extensions of credit are effectively monitored, and that other appropriate steps are taken to control or mitigate the risks. The proposed amendment that introduces a new subsection (10) seeks to address this Principle. In addition to the restriction on lending to individuals, it restricts lending to members of a borrower group that would push the financial institution's exposure to the borrower group as a whole over the statutory limit.

Proposal for Amendment

- 15.4 To repeal section 16 and substitute with a new section 16.
- 15.5 To make provisions to amend existing section 16(1)(a) to—
- 15.5.1 tighten the reference to related parties to which a financial institution's exposure is limited under this section by combining these parties into a borrower group, and change the reference to making advances, to incurring exposures so as to capture all types of exposures e.g. letters of credit and futures agreements. The amendment also seeks to cap the exposure to such a group or party therein to 25 per cent of Tier I Capital as agreed to by the Caribbean Banking Supervisors and to retain only one exception, the Government or debts secured by Government.

- 15.5.2 remove all the exemptions outlined in the existing subparagraphs (i),(ii) and (iii)
- 15.6 To expand the existing subsection (1)(b) to additionally prohibit the extension of credit against shares of any entity within the financial group to which the licensed institution belongs, as well as the shares of a borrower company. This improves upon the existing provision, which only refers to the shares of the bank.
- 15.7 To reposition the existing paragraph (1)(c) as subsection (4), and renumber subsections (1)(d-g) as subsections (1)(c-f).
- 15.8 To amend subsection (1)(c) as renumbered (existing subsection (1)(d)) to remove the exemptions contained therein.
- 15.9 The amendments to subsections (1)(e) and (1)(f) as renumbered (existing paragraphs (f) and (g)) will be addressed under Investment Activities.
- 15.10 To insert a new subsection (2), paragraph (a) of which provides that obligations incurred under subsection (1) which are in excess of 15% of the financial institution's unimpaired capital and reserves must be secured by insurance with a value of at least twenty percent more than the amount of the obligations secured thereby. Paragraph (b) limits the combined exposure of 10 per cent of Tier I Capital to 400 percent or 4 times the financial institution's Tier I capital, and paragraph (c) allows the Central Bank to vary or suspend any of the limits prescribed under subsection (1).
- 15.11 To insert a new subsection (3) creating an offence for breaches of subsections (1)(a), (1)(c), (1)(f), or (2).
- 15.12 To reposition the existing subsection (1)(c) but renumbering it as subsection (4).
- 15.13 To renumber subsection (2) as subsection (5) and to reduce the percentage of the exposure outlined in subsection (2) to 5 per cent of the financial institution's Tier I Capital. The amendment also requires the references in this section to be altered, to reflect the change in position of Section 16(1)(c), to stand as Section 16(2).

- 15.14 To insert a new subsection (6) creating an offence for breaches of subsections (4) or (5).
- 15.15 To reposition the existing subsection (3) as subsection (7) and make the relevant amendments to reference the appropriate subsections.
- 15.16 To insert a new subsection (8), which will be addressed under Investment Activities.
- 15.17 To insert a new subsection (9) that mandates financial institutions to maintain information systems that facilitate the capturing of connected lending.
- 15.18 To amend the references made in subsection (10), existing subsection (4), and to capture connected or related borrowers.
- 15.19 To amend subsection (11), existing subsection (5), to insert amendments to the sections referenced under this section.
- 15.20 To insert a new subsection (12) that limits the activities of a financial group to banking business or business of a financial nature to enable effective consolidated supervision and regulation of all entities that could impact the soundness of the licensed institution.

15.B Investment Activities

Rationale for Amendment

- 15.21 Core Principle 5 requires that banking supervisors have the authority to establish criteria for reviewing major acquisitions or investments by a bank and ensuring that corporate affiliations or structures do not expose the bank to undue risks or hinder effective supervision.
- 15.22 The existing section 16(1)(f) of the Banking Act now section 16(1)(e), contains certain statutory limitations on the ability of a financial institution (including a bank) to acquire or continue in the acquisition of any ownership interest in any financial, commercial, agricultural, industrial or other undertaking. The limitations are related to the capital and reserves of the financial institution. The provision does not, however, contain a global limitation on such holdings.
- 15.23 These limitations do not extend to the range of activities that affiliates may conduct. As such a bank can choose to be affiliated with non-financial unregulated entities that the supervisors do not have either the expertise or the legal authority to supervise.

- 15.24 The existing Section 16(1)(g) now section 16(1)(f), contains certain statutory limitations on the purchase and acquisition of real estate other than for expansion and sets out a time frame for disposal.
- 15.25 The provisions under the Banking Act while limiting the holdings of a financial institution in another company to 10 per cent of its capital and reserves does not preclude ownership in several companies to such an extent that the entire capital and reserves of the financial institution is tied up in other companies. Where the investments by a financial institution results in the formation of a group or conglomerate, under the existing Banking Act the ECCB cannot effectively supervise the activities of the group with a view to determining the potential threat to overall financial stability of the banking entity as some entities are outside its reach.
- 15.26 The proposed amendment should be viewed in conjunction with the amendments to Sections (6) and (15) of the existing Banking Act.
- 15.27 To re-letter section 16(1)(f) as section 16(1)(e) and section 16(1)(g) as section 16(1)(f).
- 15.28 To amend existing subsection (e) by expanding subparagraph (ii) with a proviso that limits the global holdings by a financial institution in other companies to 60 per cent of the financial institution's Tier I Capital.
- 15.29 To amend existing subparagraph (ii) of paragraph (f) to permit financial institutions to hold other real estate for a maximum period of five years before disposal.
- 15.30 To insert a new subsection (8), which was introduced in light of the requirements under Core Principle 4 and embodies criteria to determine the suitability of a proposed shareholding.

15. Credit Institutions, Class of Credit Institution and Financial Group Section 18

Rationale for Amendment

- 15.1 The activities engaged in by any member of a financial or other group impacts the performance, credibility and viability of all members. The Supervisor must be aware of the risk attendant in each segment of the group if the supervision of the financial institution is to be effective.

- 15.2 Core Principle 23 requires that Banking Supervisors practice global consolidated supervision over their internationally active banking organizations, adequately monitoring and applying appropriate prudential norms to all aspects of the business conducted by these banking organizations worldwide, primarily at their foreign branches, joint ventures and subsidiaries.
- 15.3 Whenever a financial institution is part of a group, the Central Bank will need to conduct consolidated supervision. Consolidation will include the preparation of consolidated returns covering the group or part of the group. Consolidation will also take into account the activities of group entities, which are not included in consolidated returns because of the nature of their assets, which cannot be meaningfully included. It is not intended to conduct full supervision of all the members in the group but only to supervise the financial institution as part of its group.
- 15.4 The requirements of Core Principle 23 are also applicable to Sections 18,20,21,22,23,31 and 35 of the Banking Act. These sections will be addressed subsequently.

Proposal for Amendment

- 15.5 To amend section 18, enabling the Minister in consultation with the Central Bank to apply the provisions of the Act to members of a financial group as defined in the interpretations section with such modifications as are deemed appropriate. In so doing the Central Bank is better placed to comply with the requirements of Core Principle 23.

PART III — AUDIT, INFORMATION AND EXAMINATION

16. Annual Audit, report and publication of financial statements and results.
Section 19

Rationale for Amendment

- 16.1 Core Principle 19 requires that supervisors have a means of independent validation of supervisory information whether by onsite examination or use of external auditors. Significant emphasis is placed on the work of the external auditors in the acquiring information on the performance of the financial institution and in advising such institutions of prudent courses of action to be taken with respect to accounting practices and procedures.
- 16.2 Essential criteria for compliance with this Principle include the Supervisor having the authority to directly appoint external auditors to conduct supervisory tasks, and to oppose the appointment of an external auditor that is deemed to have inappropriate expertise and or independence.

Proposal for Amendment

- 16.3 To amend subsection (1) to specifically detail the duties of the external auditor.
- 16.4 To insert a new subsection (2) to address the remuneration of the auditor.
- 16.5 To insert a new subsection (3) to mandate the auditor to immediately report on matters of concern arising out of the audit of the institution to the financial institution and the Central Bank. The matters that must be immediately reported are outlined in paragraphs (a) to (e) under this subsection.
- 16.6 To insert a new subsection (4) to enable the Central Bank to request the reports submitted to the board of the financial institution by its internal and external auditors.
- 16.7 To insert a new subsection (5) to address further areas on which the auditor is expected to inform the Central Bank.
- 16.8 The insertion of the above subsections resulted in a renumbering of existing subsections.
- 16.9 To amend subsection (6), formerly subsection (2) to require the auditor to present its findings directly to the board of the financial institution.
- 16.10 To amend subsection (7), formerly subsection (3) to require any locally incorporated bank to publish and exhibit copies of audited statements, on a solo and consolidated basis for local and foreign operations.
- 16.11 To amend subsection (8), formerly subsection (4), to require the foreign branch banks to publish statements of its local operations.
- 16.12 To insert a new subsection (9) creating an offence for failing to carry out additional duties at the request of the Central Bank.
- 16.13 To amend subsection (9), formerly subsection (5) to reflect the increased fines applicable to violations under subsections (6), (7) and (8) under this section from one hundred dollars to five hundred dollars.

- 16.14 To amend subsection (11), formerly subsection 6, to replace the phrase shall have the power to with the word may in relation to the appointment of an auditor by the Central Bank.
- 16.15 To insert a new subsection (10) that enables the Central Bank to commission a special audit of a financial institution.
- 16.16 To insert a new subsection (12) relieving auditors of liability for disclosure of information to the Central Bank.
- 16.17 To reposition the former subsections 7 and 8 as subsections 13(a) and (b).
- 16.18 To amend Subsection (13), formerly Subsection (8) to exclude certain persons from remaining as auditors of the financial institution.

17. Central Bank Examination

Section 20

Rationale for Amendment

- 17.1 Core Principle 16 requires that an effective banking supervisory system consist of some form of offsite and on-site supervision. In addition, Core Principle 20 requires that the banking supervisor have the ability to supervise the banking group on a consolidated basis. In line with this Section 20 allows the examination of the affiliates of a financial institution. However, since affiliates located abroad may pose considerable risk to a financial institution (see paragraph 15 above), it is necessary to expand this section to provide for supervision of overseas as well as local affiliates.

Proposal for Amendment

- 17.2 To amend subsection (2) to effect an examination of the offices of locally incorporated banks that are outside the jurisdiction.
- 17.3 To reposition the existing section 23(2) as subsection (3) of this section. To amend subsection (2) by removing the word Inspection and replacing it with Examination to address inconsistencies arising from the use of both terms in the Act.

18. Disclosure and access to books and records by

Central Bank examiner for examination

Section 21

Proposal for Amendment

- 18.1 To amend subsection (1) to change the word Inspection to Examination and to extend Central Bank's examinations to the affiliates of licensed financial institutions. This is to address inconsistencies arising from the use of both terms in the Act.

19. Central Bank's Powers and Measures for Preventing Adverse Consequences Section 22

Rationale for Amendment

- 19.1 Core Principle 22 requires that banking supervisors have at their disposal adequate supervisory measures to bring about timely corrective action when a bank fails to meet prudential requirements, when there are regulatory violations, or where depositors are threatened in any other way. In extreme circumstances this should include the ability to revoke the banking license or recommend its revocation.

Proposal for Amendment

- 19.2 To amend section 22 to outline the specific courses of action at the disposal of the Central Bank and the basis for such action by the Central Bank. The courses of action outlined are on gradation that commences with written warnings, and includes the payment of a monetary sum to the Comptroller of Inland Revenue, where the Central Bank notifies the institution of a breach of certain sections of the Banking Act and the institution admits such breach. The ultimate sanction is the revocation of licenses by the Minister. With regard to monetary penalties due regard has been paid to constitutional limitations to ensure that the amendment does not allow the ECCB to impose fine, or a discretionary penalty. This ensures that the ECCB does not act in the nature of a judicial or legislative body.
- 19.3 To expand subsection (1) to take into account the actions of affiliates, directors, officers, employees or significant shareholders in undertaking remedial action, and to detail in order of severity the remedial action measures available to the Central Bank.
- 19.4 To insert a new subsection (2) which authorizes the Minister on the recommendation of the Central Bank, to restrict or vary any restriction of a licence or to revoke a licence pursuant to section 11 under the Act where there is evidence of unsafe or unsound practices in the managing of the financial institution, or a violation of any law, regulation, or Central Bank guideline to which the financial institution is subject.
- 19.5 To insert a new subsection (3) which outlines the remedial actions that can be the subject of a written agreement concluded between the Central Bank and the financial institution as a remedial measure.

- 19.6 To insert a new subsection (4) that allows a cease and desist order issued under subsection (1) subparagraph (iii) of this section to include corrective action to be taken by the financial institution.
- 19.7 To insert a new subsection (5) that makes it an offence liable to summary conviction to fail to comply with the provisions of this section. The subsection also outlines the applicable fines that may be charged to directors/managers and to the financial institution. The financial institution is liable to be fined one hundred thousand dollars, with an additional fine of ten thousand dollars for each day on which the offence is continued after conviction. The individual is fined fifty thousand and five thousand dollars respectively.
- 19.8 To introduce a new subsection (6) specifying the manner of setting the effective date of remedial measures directed by the Central Bank.
- 19.9 To introduce a new subsection (7) instituting a regime for the payment of a monetary sum for admitted breaches of certain sections of the Banking Act by a licensed financial institution. The provision contains protection from liability for prosecution after admission and payment of the monetary sum to the Comptroller of Inland Revenue.

20. Submission of returns and production of information as required by the Central Bank Section 23

Rationale for Amendment

- 20.1 In addition to the production of information upon the request of the Central Bank the submission of prudential returns containing important data is a key part of the supervisory process. These returns form the bulk of information used for offsite surveillance of licensed financial institutions. The provisions for making returns appear in the Eastern Caribbean Central Bank Agreement, which predated the Banking Act. The proposed amendments regularises the process by importing the provisions into the Banking Act where most other obligations of commercial banks towards the supervisor are to be found.

Proposal for Amendment

- 20.2 To modify and renumber the existing subsection (1) as subsection (6).
- 20.3 To insert a new subsection (2) to provide for the submission of returns, including a quarterly report to the Central Bank on exposures that exceed 10 per cent of the Tier I capital.
- 20.4 To insert a new subsection (3) to provide for the confidential treatment of such returns, but for the exchange of information with other financial supervisory institutions with adequate arrangements for preserving their confidentiality.

- 20.5 To insert a new subsection (4) to allow for copies of returns to be provided to a Participating Government at its request.
- 20.6 To insert a new subsection (5) enabling the Central Bank to require a financial institution to disclose the basis for any of its fees and charges.
- 20.7 To reposition subsection (1) as subsection (6) expanding it to refer to data described in subsections (2) or (5).
- 20.8 To insert a new subsection (7) creating an offence for breaches of subsection (2) or (6).

PART IV – MISCELLANEOUS

21. Minimum Criteria for determining whether a person is Fit and Proper Section 26

Rationale for Amendment

- 21.1 It is necessary that certain minimum standards of performance be set for directors so that each director will know what is required, when serving on the board of a financial institution. The standards are embodied in the fit and proper criteria. There is an ongoing need to ensure that Directors continue to meet these criteria given their critical role in ensuring the financial soundness of the institution.
- 21.2 This amendment is critical in light of the fact that banks and other financial institutions hold the wealth of the member states, as custodians of the funds of individual depositors. The law must ensure that the rights of the owners of this property that is held by financial institutions are protected. The democratic right of shareholders to elect the persons they wish to manage their company, is preserved as shareholders would be aware of the criteria, allowing them to elect their directors within the bounds of the law.
- 21.3 The criteria set out in the Act would be one of the tools used in the offsite surveillance and onsite examinations to assess directors' performance and conduct in office.

Proposal for Amendment

- 21.4 To insert a new section containing the minimum standards of performance for directors, controlling shareholders or managers of financial institutions.

22. Removal and disqualification of DirectorSection 27Rationale for Amendment

22.1 Good corporate governance requires directors, managers and controlling shareholders to meet the minimum standards of performance outlined in section 26. To strengthen the existing criteria it was necessary to include additional provisions for disqualification upon notification by a special majority of the financial institutions board, automatic disqualification, and provisions that allow for discretion in instances where the failure or revocation of the licence of a financial institution was not directly attributable to the performance of the director or manager.

Proposal for Amendment

22.2 To renumber the existing Section 26 as Section 27 and amend subsection (1) by renumbering subsections (b), (c) as subparagraphs (b)(ii), (iii) and inserting a new subparagraph (i) to include conviction of an offence under this Act as an additional reason for disqualification.

22.3 To amend subsection (2) dividing it into three paragraphs, to include the former sub-paragraph (1)(d) as sub-paragraph (2)(a), to include a new paragraph (b) to cover association with companies which have been wound-up by the court or placed in receivership, and to modify the existing sub-section placing it as paragraph (c) adding an exception in the event that the licence was revoked due to amalgamation or voluntary winding-up, to this provision which results in disqualification for association with any financial institution whose licence was revoked,.

22.4 To remove the words “his” and “his being” replacing them with has been, throughout the Section.

23. Declaration and registration of related interest and Conflict of interest by DirectorSection 28

23.1 To renumber the existing Section 27 as Section 28, and amend subsection (2) to remove the word “his” and replacing it with the director.

23.2 To amend paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (2) to reflect the removal of the words “his interest”, replacing it with the phrase the interest of the director.

- 23.3 To amend paragraphs (a) and (b) of subsection (3) to reflect the removal of the word “he”, replacing it with the phrase assuming office in subparagraph (a) and the date of commencement in office or possession of the property in subparagraph (b).
- 23.4 Subsection (4) is retained without amendment.
- 23.5 To amend subsection (5) to increase the fine applicable to this section.

24. Responsibility for deceiving statements and obstruction of audit or authorized examination
Section 29

This former Section 28 is renumbered, and the content retained without amendment

25. Management’s duty of compliance with requirements of the laws
Section 30

This former Section 29 is renumbered, and the content is retained without amendment.

26. Liability of directors, officers and partners
Section 31

This former Section 30 is renumbered, and the content is retained without amendment

27. Secrecy of Information
Section 32

Rationale for Amendment

- 27.1 At present the ECCB regulates branches of First Caribbean International Bank. The head office of these branches is located in Barbados. The Act is making provision for consolidated supervision, but this would be impossible under the current arrangements where the ECCB would be prohibited from exchanging information with the Central Bank of Barbados. As required by Core Principle 24, in order to effectively perform consolidated supervision, the ECCB as supervisor must establish contact and exchange of information with the other supervisors of the regulated entity.
- 27.2 Home country supervisor should establish informal or formal arrangements with host country supervisors for appropriate information sharing on the financial condition and performance of overseas operations of its banks in the host countries. The information referred to is prudential and other relevant information relevant to financial stability. Information on individuals will not be disclosed. The information shared will be done so on the basis that it is not to be used for purposes other than financial supervision. Such excluded purposes are for provision to criminal or taxation authorities for the purpose of preventing money-laundering or tax evasion.

Proposal for Amendment

- 27.3 To renumber the existing Section 31 as Section 32, and expand the proviso to subsection (1) to include provisions granting authority to the Central Bank to make arrangements with home supervisors of foreign financial institutions and host supervisors of local financial institutions that have established offices overseas for the sharing of information for the purpose of ensuring safety and soundness, subject to a Memorandum of Understanding, and provided that appropriate measures are instituted for the confidential use of the information.

28. Working days of financial institutions

Section 33

- 28.1 This former Section 32 is renumbered, and the content is retained without amendment.

29. Regulations

Section 34

Rationale for Amendment

- 34.1 There is a general theme throughout the Core Principles that requires the banking supervisor to have the capacity to issue standards, guidelines or regulations to effect varying operational aspects of risk management. Such standards, guidelines and regulations are in relation to market, country, transfer and credit risk, loan classification and provisioning, capital adequacy, funds management and know-your-customer procedures.

Proposal for Amendment

- 34.2 To renumber the existing Section 33 as Section 34, and insert a new subsection (f) that gives the Minister the authority to make regulation regarding capital adequacy requirements.

30. Compounding of Offences

Section 35

Proposal for Amendment

- 30.1 To renumber section 33A as section 35 and to change the word “he” to The Minister.

31. Prudential Guidelines

Section 36

Rationale for Amendment

- 36.1 The supervisor should have at its disposal the ability to issue Prudential Guidelines to strengthen the supervisory process within its jurisdiction. The proposed amendment seeks to explicitly state in the Act the authority of the Central Bank to issue Prudential Guidelines and thereby give them legal effect.

Proposal for Amendment

- 36.2 To insert a new section 36 which authorises the Central Bank to issue Prudential Guidelines on a range of detailed matters, for the effective administration of the banking laws.

It is possible for these circumstances to be corrected by remedial measures, before the financial institution arrives at a point where the appointment of a receiver is necessary.
