(SECTION 3(2))

G N 224/1963

[Commencement 28th September, 1963]

A. The Organisation

1. This Order may be cited as the International Organisations (Immunities and Privileges of the United Nations) Order. Short title.

2. The United Nations is an Organisation of which Her Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom and the Governments of foreign sovereign Powers are members. The Organisation.

Legal capacity. 3. The United Nations shall have the legal capacities of a body corporate and, except in so far as in any particular case it has expressly waived its immunity, immunity from suit and legal process. No waiver of immunity shall be deemed to extend to any measure of execution.

Official archives and premises. 4. The United Nations shall have the like inviolability of official archives and premises occupied as offices as is accorded in respect of official archives and premises of an envoy of a foreign sovereign Power accredited to Her Majesty.

Relief from taxes. 5. The United Nations shall have the like exemption or relief from taxes and rates, other than taxes on the importation of goods, as is accorded to a foreign sovereign Power.

Exemption from taxes. 6. The United Nations shall have exemption from taxes on the importation of goods directly imported by the United Nations for its official use in The Bahamas or for exportation, or on the importation of any publications of the United Nations directly imported by it, such exemption to be subject to compliance with such conditions as the Comptroller of Customs may prescribe for the protection of the revenue.

Importation of goods. 7. The United Nations shall have exemption from prohibitions and restrictions on importation or exportation in the case of goods directly imported or exported by the United Nations for its official use and in the case of any publications of the United Nations directly imported or exported by it.

Reduced rates of telegrams. 8. The United Nations shall have the right to avail itself, for telegraphic communications sent by it and containing only matter intended for publication by the press or for broadcasting (including communications addressed to or despatched from places outside The Bahamas), of any reduced rates applicable for the corresponding service in the case of press telegrams.

B. Representatives cf Members

Immunities and privileges of representatives of members. 9. (1) Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the Governments whom they represent, representatives on any organ or members of any committee or on any organ of the United Nations shall enjoy —

- (a) immunity from legal process of every kind in respect of words spoken or written and things done or omitted to be done by them in their capacity as representatives or members;
 - (b) exemption from taxes on the importation of goods subject to compliance with such conditions as the Comptroller of Customs may prescribe for the protection of the revenue.

(2) For the purposes of the application of this Order the expression “representatives” shall be deemed to include, in addition to the representatives, the following members of their official staffs accompanying them as such representatives —

- alternative representatives;
- advisers;
- technical experts;
- secretaries of Delegations,

and Part IV of the Schedule to the Act shall not operate so as to confer privileges or immunities on the staffs of representatives other than on those persons falling within the above-mentioned descriptions.

(3) The provisions in the preceding Articles of this Order shall not confer any immunity or privilege on any person as the representative of the Government of The Bahamas or as a member of the staff of such representative or on any person who is a citizen of the United Kingdom and Colonies.

C. High Officials of the United Nations

10. Except in so far as in any particular case any privilege or immunity is waived by the United Nations, the Secretary General of the United Nations (including any officer acting for him during his absence from duty) shall be accorded in respect of himself, his spouse and his children under the age of twenty-one, the like immunity from suit and legal process, the like inviolability of residence and the like exemption or relief from taxes, other than income tax, as is accorded to an envoy of a foreign sovereign Power accredited to Her Majesty, his spouse and children, and exemption from income tax in respect of emoluments received by him as an officer of the United Nations.
