

THE IMMIGRATION BILL

(No. XII of 2022)

Explanatory Memorandum

The main object of this Bill is to consolidate and strengthen the law with regard to the admission, and stay, of non-citizens in Mauritius.

2. When the Immigration Act was enacted in the year 1970, a limited category of non-citizens could be admitted to, and remain in, Mauritius. Over the last 50 years since its enactment, the Immigration Act 1970 has been amended at least 20 times to provide, inter alia, for other categories of non-citizens to be admitted to, and remain in, Mauritius, such as investors, retired persons, self-employed persons, professionals and young professionals. With such major and consequential amendments brought over the years, it has now become necessary to repeal the Immigration Act 1970 and re-enact a more appropriate and simplified legislation with regard to immigration.

3. The present legislation, as compared to the Immigration Act 1970, makes new provisions to prevent situations where a non-citizen marries a citizen for the sole purpose of obtaining a residence permit to stay in Mauritius. It is therefore provided that a non-citizen spouse will not outright be eligible for a residence permit. The marriage between the non-citizen and the citizen will have to be a civil marriage and the non-citizen spouse will, in lieu, obtain a temporary residence permit to stay in Mauritius for a period of 2 years and, after that period, the non-citizen spouse will be eligible to apply for a residence permit. The Immigration Department will be empowered to investigate into whether the marriage between a non-citizen and a citizen is a marriage of convenience, and if it is established to the satisfaction of the Immigration Department that the marriage is not a marriage of convenience, the non-citizen will obtain a residence permit.

4. Accordingly, it is being provided that –

- (a) where the marriage between a non-citizen and a citizen is celebrated outside Mauritius, no application for a temporary residence permit will be entertained unless the non-citizen submits, inter alia –
 - (i) his marriage certificate certifying that he is civilly married to his citizen spouse; and
 - (ii) an affidavit or any other document, duly sworn or affirmed by him before a Court of law in his country of residence, attesting that, on the date of his marriage to the citizen, he is not married to any other person;

- (b) where an application for marriage between a non-citizen and a citizen has been rejected in Mauritius and, thereafter, the marriage is celebrated outside Mauritius, the non-citizen will, unless in exceptional circumstances, not be issued with a temporary residence permit.

5. Consequently, to enable other relevant authorities to conduct appropriate checks on non-citizens, the Civil Status Act is being amended to further provide that a marriage between a non-citizen and a citizen will now be celebrated in Mauritius after 30 days of the publication of the marriage, instead of the current 10 days.

6. In addition, the Mauritius Citizenship Act is being amended to provide that, henceforth, where a non-citizen who is married to a citizen intends to be registered as a citizen of Mauritius, he will, 4 years after having been issued with a residence permit, be eligible to make an application to be registered as a citizen of Mauritius.

7. Other consequential amendments have been rendered necessary to the Deportation Act, the Economic Development Board Act, the Non-Citizens (Employment Restriction) Act, the Non-Citizens (Property Restriction) Act and the Passports Act, so as to align these enactments with the new legislation.

8. As regards other permits allowing non-citizens to stay in Mauritius, such as residence permit for a retired non-citizen, permanent residence permit, occupation permit, short-term occupation permit and family occupation permit, the conditions upon which they were granted under the Immigration Act 1970 are being maintained.

9. Accordingly, with the enactment of the present legislation, the rights of a non-citizen who has acquired the status of resident under the Immigration Act 1970 will be preserved.
